

Dr Nick Milojevic

Dr Nick Milojevic, MBBS MBACD, is the owner and clinical director of the Milo Clinic, one of London's leading aesthetic medicine clinics. Situated in London's Harley Street, the clinic specialises in an array of cutting-edge aesthetic procedures and treatments for both men and women.

Dr Milojevic is continually named in the media's lists of top experts for Botox in the UK, and is recognised as the leader in his field for non-surgical eye bag removal using dermal fillers and non-surgical nose shaping using Restylane.

Dr Milojevic's passion, ambition and artistic feeling for aesthetic medicine are unrivalled, and his friendly, reassuring approach puts the most nervous of patients at ease. He has a unique and modern approach to this fast growing field of medicine, which he believes to be the future (and increasingly the present) of cosmetic and plastic surgery.

The Milo Clinic's specialist range of procedures also includes the non-surgical facelift, treatment for excessive sweating, skin rejuvenation including Obagi Nu-Derm and the Obagi Blue Peel, and the groundbreaking Vaser-Lipo treatment.

As a leading expert in aesthetic medicine Dr Milojevic's recent media involvement has included Channel 5, Sky News, MTV, Tatler, Marie Claire, Daily Telegraph, Sunday Times, Daily Mail and Company magazine.

"The Milo Clinic's aim is to halt the ageing process, turn the clock back, rejuvenate, and to make patients look as young as they feel inside"
